Important Notice Regarding the 2007 Building Code

If you are an Architect, Engineer, Designer, Contractor or Homeowner that performs work within the State of California, please be advised that a new series of Codes will become effective on January 1, 2008. Most of these codes will look familiar with one exception; the “International Building Code” (IBC) is significantly different than the current Uniform Building Code (UBC).

All plan review applications submitted after December 31, 2007 will be required to comply with the new codes. Any master plan permit that is issued after December 31, 2007 will require that the approved plans be updated to the new codes series. This will mean that when you pull a permit for a master plan after December 31, 2007 your project must be in compliance with the new codes.

There are many changes in the IBC including many California Amendments to the Code. All Architects, Engineers, Designers, and Contractors will need to participate in training before the new codes take effect. Training classes are available through the following organizations:

California Building Officials at: www.CALBO.org

Sacramento Valley Association of Building Officials at:
www.svabo.org

International Code Council at: www.iccsafe.org

If you have questions regarding the new codes or require further information please contact the City of Folsom, Building and Safety at (916) 351-3555.
